National-cultural ideology and methodology of spiritual and moral education

M.A. Kuznetsov

It is explained the historical opportunity of the Russian state formation of a responsible civil society on the basis of national-cultural ideology, able to generate in each individual national spirit and a national character, as an expression of the essence of consciousness and the consciousness of the people united on a common basis of national culture. The complexity is determined by the difference between the political nation, cultivated power and cultural-historical nationality of the people. Cultural and historical nationality formed by the people on the basis of national identity and values of the national culture and religion. It is proved that the idea of the nation state is manifested in the political life of power, and cultural-historical nationality manifested in the spiritual and moral life of the people as the Catholicity of national consciousness and identity.

Keywords: spiritual and cultural motivation, responsible civil society, ethnic stereotypes of behavior, social identity of a person, self-awareness - a sovereign Being personality, system of moral values - a system of ideological relations
