Understanding human nature in the context of idealistic anthropology

D.I. Polikarpov

The article indicates the philosophical problem of identity in the technosphere. A concept of the "center offset", which is a polemic sensual and rational experience shows existential beginning of the person in the world, reality, is permeable barrier between the mind and the instincts. Searches in substantial man-spirit and opportunity out of intersubjectivity in objective reality. Man appears as the subject of cognition and how the observer is required to observe. The presence of cognitive and creative intentions of a person involves him in a special relationship with Genesis. The value of life is considered as a revelation of universal laws in the vital-semantic form.

Keywords: person, personality, consciousness, identity, technosphere, "center offset", inter personality, knowledge
