Law concept as mechanism of interest differentiation in law theory of N.M. Korkunov

E.A. Khblikyan

The problem of law conception as a mechanism of interests' separation in N.M. Korkunov's law theory is studied in the article. The main problem is to find out how law can form law conditions to provide personal interests. According to Korkunov right and law cannot be equal as their nature and tasks are different. If law nature is in interest differentiation, then law nature is to create the corresponding mechanism of this differentiation.

Keywords: law, law conception, interests of person, law mechanism, juridical conditions
