

DOI: 10.18522/1997-2377-2020-112-3-30-35

UDC: 1

Personality in the sphere of correlation of values morality and law

G. Pratsko

In the article the position is based: in proportion to the introduction of the bases of democracy, formation and development of the institutes of civic community and structures of rule-of-law state, acknowledgement of personality, its rights and freedoms by the highest social value will grow considerably the regulating and guardian potential of right. Its effectiveness can be intensified on the basis of close interrelation with the values of morals. Being the leading means of the ordering of many-sided social relations, morals and right, in the final analysis, they are called to attend priority vital interests and needs of each personality. Special features and mechanisms of the relationship of the value potential of morals and right under the contemporary conditions are revealed.

Keywords: the institutes of democracy, civic community, principles and the standard of morals, principles and the standard of right, value of morals, value of right, the vital activity of personality, right and freedom of personality

References

1. Поляков А.В. Общая теория права. СПб., 2001.
2. Сорокин П.А. Заветы Достоевского // О Достоевском: Творчество Достоевского в русской мысли. М., 1990.

Донской государственный технический университет,
г. Ростов-на-Дону

May, 20 2020
