

DOI: 10.18522/1997-2377-2021-118-3-92-94

UDC: 338

Impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the development of the tourism sector

A. Kamalov, O. Zhukovets

In recent years, the tourism industry in the world has developed at one of the highest rates. Since the end of 2019, the whole world has suddenly found itself in the conditions of the coronavirus pandemic, many travel companies, hotels, air carriers were on the verge of bankruptcy. However, over the past year, a new digital reality of the leisure of billions of people has actually taken shape, which implies new factors in the development of tourism, in this regard, studies of possible prospects for the development of tourism in Russia are relevant.

Keywords: post-pandemic tourism, domestic travel, digital technologies in tourism

References

1. Гуриева Л.К., Камалов А.В. Развитие туризма в регионах Южного федерального округа в условиях нестабильной макроэкономической ситуации // Вестник Северо-Осетинского государственного университета имени К.Л. Хетагурова. 2019. № 1. С. 84-91.
2. Kolosova O.Y., Goncharov V.N. Economic and ecological safety of the region: strategy choice // Научный альманах стран Причерноморья. 2015. № 3.

Ростовский государственный экономический университет (РИНХ), г. Ростов-на-Дону, Россия

Государственный морской университет имени адмирала Ф.Ф. Ушакова, г. Новороссийск, Россия
