Modern trends in the demand for higher education: a sociological analysis

A. Khugaeva, B. Mrikaev

The theory of human capital considers higher education as an investment, the purpose of which is the expected benefit from the advantage in the labor market. But practice shows that the functions of higher education are much wider, and the purpose of education is to provide people with the opportunity to make more free choices in life.

Keywords: demand for higher education, labor market, qualification
